

Research opportunity

Do you have epidermolysis bullosa?

Are/were you at school, college, or university in the UK?

If you're aged 16-25 years old, or are a parent/carer of a school-age person with EB, we're interested in hearing your experiences.

What is the research about?

An MSc student from Cardiff University is researching the impact of EB on children and young people's experiences of education in the UK. We'd like to hear about your challenges and concerns, as well as what has helped you to overcome these. We hope that this research will enable people living with EB to be better understood and supported throughout their school years.

What would I have to do?

If you'd like to take part, you will be invited to share your thoughts in an online interview lasting around 45 minutes. Participation is entirely voluntary.

For further information, or to take part, please contact:

Helen Shepperson, MSc Genetic and Genomic Counselling Student
SheppersonHC@Cardiff.ac.uk

Supervised by Professor Fiona Wood - Wood@Cardiff.ac.uk
Ethical approval granted by Cardiff University School of Medicine
Research Ethics Committee (#24/54)

